URFA Equity Committee highlighting inequities of Women Academic Staff

Equity Week at the University of Regina will be taking place March 16-23, with many campus groups organizing activities promoting equity: on the basis of gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, race and ethnicity, indigeneity, disability, and other forms of marginalization. The URFA Equity Committee, with the support of many member volunteers, will be handing out brochures highlighting some of the inequities faced by women academic staff on campus. Stop by our table between 12 PM and 1 PM, Monday, March 19 through Friday, March 23. We will be in the RIC Atrium Monday through Wednesday, and in the Classroom Building main hallway Thursday and Friday.

URFA will also be launching a new area of our website, urfa.ca/equity, which will provide links to information and resources on equity-related topics. Check it out, and keep checking back as the Equity Committee continues to add content over time. If you have any recommendations for content you would like to see, send an email to me at Bridget.Klest@uregina.ca, or urfa@uregina.ca.
