Each affiliate union may submit up to two names per committee.

Each affiliate will be granted only one vote on a committee.

The SFL Executive officers reserve the right to limit the total number of members on a committee.

The names put forward by affiliates are presented to executive council and are ratified by way of a motion. Committee members can be added or removed at any time throughout the term but will require a motion by executive council.

The SFL will cover expenses for meeting room rental, health breaks, lunch and expenses of the committee chairperson, in accordance with SFL policy.

The SFL will also cover expenses (wages, travel and meals) for up to eight members on the following committees: Indigenous, Occupational Health and Safety/Workers' Compensation, Solidarity & Pride, Women's, Workers of Colour, Workers with Disabilities and Young Workers.

For all other committees, affiliates are responsible to cover the expenses for their members.
